THE RALEIGH NEWS

VOL. XIV--NO. 109. RALEIGH, N. C. THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 9, 1879. $5.00 PER ANNU M

THE election of John M. Moring Speaker of the House means a business session. We congratulate the House.

MR. MORING has the ability, expeperience and energy to make the House a good speaker. Elected over popular and able rivals, his friends may pardonably exult over his election.

THE appointment of a special committee on retrenchment has been suggested. Every regular committee should be a committee on retrenchment in its own department of work.

TIME is the essence of the 60 days days session that began so auspiciously yesterday. Senator Caldwell of Guilford, recognizing this important fact, introduced a resolution convening the Senate at 10 o'clock each day.

TRUE to his instincts, Joe Turner bolted the caucus nomination for speaker. After participating in the caucus he declined to vote for Speaker in the House. And yet this man maintains fellowship with the Democratic party.

THE House will complete its organization by the re-election to-morrow of Col. John D. Cameron, the able editor of the veteran Hillsboro Recorder, principle clerk, the election of Mr. R. W. Best, an attache of the Raleigh Observer, reading clerk; and the re-election of Major Barrett engrossing clerk. The House is well equipped for good work.

PROFESSOR Loomis continues his experiments in the mountains of West Virginia to demonstrate his theory that at certain elevations there is natural electric current, by taking advantage of which telegraphic messages may be sent without the use of wires. It is said that he has telegraphed as far as eleven miles by means of kites flown with copper wire. When the kites reached the same altitude, or got into the same current, cummunication by means of an instrument similar to the Morse instrument was easy and perfect, but ceased as soon as one of the kites was lowered. He has built towers on two his about twenty miles apart, and from the tops of them run up steel rods into the region of the electric current. The statement is made that in this way without any wire, he has been able to to keep up telegraphic communication for months at a time. A heavy storm, however, prevents communication for months at a time. A heavy storm, however, prevents communication for a time, probably by disarranging the current. In a recent letter to the editor of a Washington journal, Professor Loomis announced that he had recently discovered that the telephone could be used for this communication as well as telegraphic instruments, and that of late he had done all his talking with his assistant, 20 miles away, by telephone, the connection being aerial only. He claims that he can telegraph across the sea without other wires than those necessary to reach the elevation of the current.

How to Pay the Public Debt.

By request we reproduce the article which appeared in last Sunday's NEWS suggesting a plan for the liquidation of the State debt:

"As is well known, the high United States tax on State bonds issue is so oppresive that it would be suicidal to attempt to organize and run them. It is further known that the scattered and shattered condition of our individual resources prevents a sufficient accumulation, of them to buy bonds with which to establish "national banks," and hence we suffer for want of circulation in many parts of the State, for without banks it is impossible to have a sufficient circulation to sustain commercial necessity and push enterprises to success.

"To circumvent this oppressive tax and, and at the same time, give our people a home circulation which will be good and accessible to them as greenbacks, we suggest that when the Legislature settles the bonded debt of the State it do so by issuing four per cent. bonds a fraction larger in size than the greenback dollar and in denominations of one hundred, fifty, twenty-five, twenty, ten and five dollars, with six couponds, (three at each end) payable annually and receivable in payment of taxes and other dues to the State. This plan would secure several millions of circulation to the State, would be more than acceptable to our people, and if the debt was settled on the basis last offered by the bondholders (or some of them in 1876-'77, which was $6,500,000 thirty year bonds bearing three per cent for several years and six per cent. thereafter,) we believe the people would rejoice. The coupons on these bonds would run across the ends and each six years, as they were exhausted, new bonds would be re-issued until redemption day came. This would have to be done so as to keep the size of the bonds small enough for ordinary or general circulation. The present acknowledged debt of the State, principal and interest, is $23,270,702.

"The offer of the bondholders in 1876-'77 was to accept $6,500,000 for $21,409,388, or about 33 per cent. On this basis the new settlement would be $7,756,900, for $23,270,702.

Conger at Fort Fisher.

Wilmington Star.

Conger—the great, the illustrious Conger, has been in Wilmington, and on yesterday went down the "Raging Cape Fear." When he got to classic ground—that is to say, at historic Fort Fisher, where the greatest bombardment of the world occurred—the immortal Conger blew his "wreathed horn," which awakened all of the minnows and Tritons and mermaids of "the vasty deep," and even the alligators were seen to wag their tails in token of extreme delight. Conger's horn is not only musical, but tremendous. He blew so long and loud that seafaring men twenty miles out at sea thought it was Gabriel's trumpet, and began to take in sail for the day of wrath.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.

HOUSE—In the opening prayer, the Chaplain alluded in a feeling and solemn manner to the death this morning, of Hartridge, of Georgia; and immediately after the reading of the journal the official announcement of the death was made by Mr. Cook, of Georgia, who offered a resolution expressing the regret of the House, and providing for a special joint committee of seven members and three Senators, to take order for the superintending the funeral and to escort the remains of the deceased to his late residence in Georgia. The Speaker appointed as such committee on the part of the House, Cook, of Ga., Frye, of Me., Cox, of N. Y., Cabell, of Va., Stone, of Iowa, Davidson, of Fla. and Hanna, of Ind. The House then adjourned.

SENATE—Edmunds, of Vermont, said there were no joint rules between the two houses of Congress, and he therefore submitted a concurrent resolution declaring that on the last three days of this session no bill passed by either House shall be sent to the other for its concurrence, and on the last day of the session no bill shall be sent to the President for his approval. He said he hoped the resolution would be passed, and Congress devote the last three days of the session to the consideration of the bills pending between the two houses. Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Conkling, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported adversely on sundry bills touching compensation of Clerks of District and Circuit Courts of the United States, and they were indefinitely postponed. He also reported from the same committee adversely on House bill providing for judicial ascertainment of claims against the United States, and it was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Grover, arising to a personal explanation, read a telegram recently published in the N. Y. Herald, in regard to Oregon, to state that funds amounting to about $97,000 being expended and not accounted for during the administration of Grover as Governor. He replied to the charges seriatim, denying their truthfulness.

At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate resumed the consideration of a bill to amend the patent laws, and Wadleigh, of New Hampshire, in charge of the bill, took the floor.

British Labor Troubles.

By Cable to the News.

BARNSLEY, Jan. 8.—The decision of the colliers on Monday not to submit to a reduction of wages, has already sent up the price of coal, and in the event of a strike it is expected that prices will rise rapidly, because stocks are very low. It is generally believed that the masters, at their meeting on Thursday, will offer a compromise on the question of wages.

English Financial Troubles.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The feeling of disquietude regarding banking credit continued to form a feature of business in the stock market yesterday. Discussions of a doubtful character were heard respecting two or three establishments which are believed to be tried a good deal by the pressure of the times.

Russian Schools Closed.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—A telegram from Moscow states that the Kharkoff Veterinary School has been broken up, and the Kieff University stopped, in consequence of the riotous demonstrations of the students.

What the Legislature Ought to do.

Wilmington Star.

Among the questions that specially deserve and absolutely require the attention of the Legislature, we may venture to mention the following:

First, the adjustment of the State debt by fair, equitable and honest compromise. This matter has been delayed far too long. Its being postponed so long has been a real injury to the prosperity and character of the State abroad.

Second, our common school system needs overhauling completely. There must be a more efficient system of superintendency, and a larger fund applied for educational purposes. The schools should be held for a longer period of time, and a higher grade of teachers should be employed.

Third, sheep husbandry should be protected and fostered. It is a great shame that one of the greatest sources of wealth to any State should be so neglected and despised. The people demand a law that will encourage and protect sheep raising.

Congress.

Washington Post.

Congress reassembles to-day. There remains to it precisely eight weeks in which to finish up the work of the session. Is that sufficient?

Leave the Radical Senate out of the calculation, and there need be no hesitation about the answer. The House can get through its legitimate buisness before the day of final adjournment without difficulty. But if the Senate persists in its obstructive measures an extra session will be unavoidable.

The appropriation bills constitute, of course, the chief feature of the work. These are eleven in number. Six have already been passed by the House, and three of these have, with numerous extravagant amendments, gone through the Senate. There remain, therefore, but five bills to be considered by the House and eight by the Senate. Among this number, however, are the two most important ones of all—the legislative, executive and judicial, and the sundry civil bills. The three bills which the Senate has passed have been increased all the way from ten to one hundred per cent., and there is no reason to doubt but that the larger and most important ones instanced will be swelled in a similar manner.

The House will not agree to these extravagant additions and increases. It cannot afford to yield an inch in such a contest. It is on the right side of the question, and its position is impregnable. It is where it can dictate terms to the Radicals in the Senate—terms which they will be obliged in the end to accept. This being the case, it is difficult to see why any Democratic member should hesitate for one moment as to his course.

The work accomplished by the House in the two weeks' time succeeding its first meeting in December was phenomenal in amount. Let it do half as well in the remaining weeks of the session, and no blame for a possible extra session can justly attach to the Democratic majority.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

First Day--Election of Officers--Mr. Moring Chosen Speaker of the House.

SENATE.

At 12 o'clock the Senate was called to order by the President, Lt. Gov. Jarvis. In a few words he expressed to the body his gratification at their assembly, and stated his determination to conduct the business of the Senate, with their assistance, with despatch and in harmony of action.

At 12 o'clock Mr. John D. Cameron, Clerk of the last House, called the House to order. When Brunswick county was reached a protest was presented, as Mr. Meares stepped to the desk. It was stated that the question was in controversy in the courts, to be decided next week, each candidate having a certificate. Meares was sworn.

In return for the confidence you have reposed in me, I promise you that whatever of ability or experience I possess shall be expended in the impartial discharge of the duties devolving upon me. Gentlemen, with your assistance, which I reasonably may expect, I indulge the hope that the public business which we have assembled to transact may be harmoniously and speedily disposed of."

He then declared the House ready for business.

On motion of Mr. Jones, of Caldwell, the House, at 1.15 p. m., adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Well Said.

Charlotte Observer.

We much enjoyed the pleasure of seeing in the city last evening, Maj. Wm. A. Hearne, a genial gentleman and a journalist whose ability, vigor and polish of style have placed him in the front rank of his profession. Maj. Hearne is the author of the series of editorial articles which have been appearing for two or three weeks past in the Raleigh Observer on the subject of internal improvements, and which have attracted such wide spread attention and so much favorable comment.

ECONOMY.

The "News" Ably Indorsed.

Correspondence of the News.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 7.

MR. EDITOR: You have as your numerous readers can testify, most forcibly and constantly urged public and official economy as one of the most important, and perhaps the prime ingredient in the remedy of the great stress that is now blighting the homes and crushing the energies of our country. That you are correct in your views in this matter can not admit of a doubt from any reflecting mind, and the mass of the people will remember with gratitude your services. Any act by which the taxes of the people are lightened is one of the widest benevolence. It reaches every home, cheers every heart and gives a stimulus to every business, and the journal that suggests, or the legislature whose force of mind or influence can effect such an act, is doing a service to the State of incalculable value, one in comparison to which the ordinary points to which parties fight and politicians wrangle, sink into real insignificance. Indeed what matters it to the great bulk of the people what political theory is prevalent, or what party administers the laws of the country, so long as that theory or administration is conducted with sincere honesty, and rigid economy? To the few who fill the places these are doubtless matters of great moment, because it is to them a question of living and for the like reason, because it touches the means of our living, and of those dependent upon our care, do we, the people, the non-office-holders, desire as a duty re ting upon our Legislature, paramount perhaps, to all others, to enforce the strictest economy in the administration of public affairs and to devise means for the payment of the current expenses of the State that will be the least onerous to those who have to bear the burden of taxation from which official support draws its pay.

The question of reduction of the present salaries and fees allowed for public service is certainly one that demands the attention of the Legislature, and if money can be saved in this question, without displaying niggardliness or impeding the prompt efficient execution of public duties, of course it rests as a stern obligation upon our law makers to do so. In this particular they are like the directors of a bank, or any other business corporation, and should administer the affairs entrusted to their guidance, without meanness, but at a better cost to the general corporation, the State, as is consistent with thorough efficiency. Besides too the obligation resting upon one occupying a fiduciary relation, the legislator adds the further one of his oath.

May we not then, Mr. Editor expect to find in the "Reform Legislature" not one, but many, who will rise above fear of constituency and the tricks of the mere politician and be willing to bury self aggrandisement in the general weal, and devote the short time that he remains at the State capitol to the furtherance of some law that will not only be of benefit to his own immediate section but for the interest of our entire good old State. With your kind permission I will follow this article with others to some extent particularizing what is here only touched upon in general terms.

Respectfully,

WM.

Newspaper That Don't Reflect Public Sentiment.

Correspondence to the News.

Newspapers are in general supposed to reflect the views of the public to which they belong. However this may be in regard to other questions the Newbernian by advocating the claims of Hon. A. S. Merrimon in the Senatorial contest now pending between him and Gov. Vance does not express the views, opinion, or sentiments of the people in this section but simply, and it may be added very weakly, expresses the opinion and views of the editor and a few of his immediate friends.

I have had every opportunity of hearing the sentiment of the people about here and am fully satisfied that a large majority at least two thirds would greatly prefer to have Gov. Vance our next Senator to A. S. Merrimon. The people have not forgoten how he was sent to the Senate in 1872.

It is the Merrimon men that are making all the noise while Gov. Vance' friends are silent believing sincerely that the members of the legislature will settle the matter by triumphantly electing Gov. Vance to the United States Senate for the next six years. In doing so they will but reflect the sentiment and wishes of a very large majority of the people of the good old North State.

In conclusion, as Cato has misrepresented Gov. Vance and our people so persistently and in such lengthy nonsensical articles. I refer you to Hon. M. E. Manly who is known throughout the State. He will, I have no doubt, if called upon, substantiate what has been said.

Yours truly,

CRAVEN.

The Swepson Trial.

Charlotte Observer.

The case of the State against Geo. W. Swepson, based on a bill of indictement found in the criminal court of Wake last month, charging the defendant with having obtained several millions of special tax bonds of the State, under false pretences, and making away with the proceeds, has been set for trial in the Superior Court of that county to-day. It promises to be the most important and interesting trial of the kind ever had in the State. A large number of witnesses have been summoned from all parts of the State by both sides, and the developments will no doubt be astounding, and we shall, perhaps, at last get at the true inwardness of the North Carolina bond transaction of 1868-'69.

[Upon motion of Solicitor Collins, of the Criminal court, the trial was moved to Franklin county.]

German Feeling on French Elections.

By Cable to the News.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—The German press shows generally, without distinction of party, great satisfaction with the result of the elections in France. The North German Gazette intimates that the Republic can reckon on the sympathy of Germany so long as its policy reflects moderate and reasonable views of Gambetta.

Never defer until to-morrow what should be attended to to-day. A slight cough ought never to be neglected when a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will prevent it from becoming chronic.

Englishmen Looking to America.

Norfolk Landmark.

A few days ago we pointed out immigration as one source of relief to England against the pressure of population on wages and subsistence. This idea was admirably enforced by Lord Lytton, in My Novel, and if British manufacturing interests continue to decline the Colonial Department will have to devote itself systematically to the problem. Since our brief article on this subject we have found the late utterances of Lord Derby on the same theme, and but for the date we might have been suspected of restarting his Lordship's views without credit. At Liverpool, according to a cable dispatch, of the 31, Lord Derby reviewed the trade outlook and showed the increased ability of other nations to manufacture for themselves, by which means markets for England fabrics are no longer under control of British manufacturers. At the end of a thorough examination, his Lordship said that the only remedy which suggested itself to his mind, after long and anxious reflection, was wholesale immigration to America and Australia, and he urged this with great earnestness.

Now, then, is the time for the Society of British Settlers in Virginia to renew their efforts to attract their countrymen; and if capitalists would only start more cotton mills at the South they could command skilled labor without limit.

[The North Carolina Board of Immigration will stick a pin right here.]

The Outlook.

Springfield Republican.

A fashion appears to be setting in of decrying the times. For instance, the Atlantic Monthly's essay upon "Certain Dangerous Tendencies in American Life," which decries the slackening of our moral sense; the decay of religious faith; false education; bad legislation; a tendency to communism; vicious social inequalities. We open Prof. Shedd's "Literary Essays"; he contrasts "now" with twenty years ago: "We are not so healthy a people as we were a generation ago. The debilitation is seen in vices that prevail over the whole extent of the land, and mortice themselves into the framework of society so firmly that society must be shocked and racked before they can be torn out." He instances our frivolous, licentious amusements as indicating an enervating process,—a modern softening of the brain, similar in perniciousness to the old Roman ossification of the heart in presence of their gladiatorial amusements. He sees again our national decay in mercantile deceit and breach of trusts; the venality and profligacy of our politics; and, still further, in the general dislike of stern recuperative theories, the disposition to dilute truth, tone down the austere, soften the ancient intellectual and religious fiber. The millenarian convention recently held in New York depicted the world as a wreck going to pieces; the gospel as a life-boat to save whom it can, but with little present hope of making the world at large better. The leading title of the current New England lie is, "A Better Remedy than Communism for the Unhappiness of the Times." Another writer describes "Glimpse Views of [illegible] Life." And so, from one quarter and another, the changes are rung on the badness of the times.

We had the fact as an auspicious omen. We are learning better seamanship by this pessimistic tack. It is best to know the worst and lay our account with it. Beating against the wind is better than always sailing before it. Pacific seas and trade breezes are well enough, but the world as a whole is not so patterned that its work can be done by them alone. Let us take our reckonings accordingly The devil can't always fool people into a disbelief of his existence. He presents his accounts now and then with startling exactness. In the inevitable settlement it seems as if the world would be bankrupt. But in the more careful account of stock, the balance is in our favor.

The Fall in Prices.

The enormous increase in the exports of agricultural products from the United States during three quarters of 1878, seems incredible, yet the official figures show very clearly that the vast gain of nearly one hundred millions in the declared value of the six great staples of export was made straight in the teeth of a heavy, general and, indeed, almost universal decline in prices.

We will take cotton and wheat as examples of the loss by depreciation in price. The exports of raw cotton in 1878 compare as under with those of 1877 in quantity and value:

EXPORTS OF COTTON FOR NINE MONTHS.

| | Quantities—Pounds. | Value. |
|---|---|---|
| 1878 | 1,065,101,180 | $117,629,766 |
| 1877 | 791,019,219 | 95,691,089 |
| Increase in 1878 | 274,080,961 | $21,938,676 |

Last year Sea Island cotton averaged 31.3 cents per pound, and other qualities 12.04 cents per pound. This year the average is reduced to 28.4 cents per pound for the former, and 10.98 cents per pound for the latter, a fall of 7.9 cents and 1.06 cents respectively. Had the exports of 1878 been at the figures which ruled in 1877, the increase in value would have risen to $30,482,724. The decline in prices on this year's shipments of cotton cost the country $8,544,047.

A like computation in the domestic exports of wheat exhibits a much more serious loss.

EXPORTS FOR NINE MONTHS.

| | Quantities—Bushels. | Value |
|---|---|---|
| 1878 | 76,128,273 | $90,556,321 |
| 1877 | 25,932,503 | 35,550,371 |
| Increase in 1878 | 50,195,770 | $55,005,950 |

In 1877 the exports averaged $1,37.08 per bushel, against $1,18,93 per bushel in 1878, a decline of 18 15 cents per bushel, equivalent to $13,817,281 on the latter shipment. We may add that the domestic exports of flour fell from $7 16 per barrel in 1877 to $5.83 per barrel in 1878, a reduction of $1.33 per barrel, amounting to $4,549,240 on the shipments of 1878. Thus in wheat and wheat flour the loss by depreciation rises to the surprising total of $18,336,521. Corn also dropped from 59 23 cents per bushel in 1877 to 52.23 cents per bushel in 1878, a fall of 7 2 cents per bushel, showing a loss of $5,223,338, and corn meal fell 60 cents per barrel, adding $208,895 to the depreciation. The loss in all descriptions of breadstuffs reaches $34,573,470. The gain in value was $68,402,058, an unparalleled increase, but it would have been $92,975,528 if reckoned at the prices of the previous year. Provisions also show a heavy decline in price. On bacon and hams there is a fall of 2.18 cents per pound, exacting a comparative reduction of $11,107,516. The entire loss on provisions amounts to $25,188,327, and is the heaviest in the list. Living animals exhibit an exceptional rise, horned cattle having advanced from $40.25 per head in 1877 to $65.62 per head in 1878, an enhancement of $25.37 per head. On the six staples of domestic exports the statement of the loss by the fall in prices is as under:

|---|---|
| Loss on cotton | $11,716,055 |
| Loss on breadstuffs | 24,573,470 |
| Loss on provisions | 25,188,327 |
| Loss on illuminating oils, | 10,370,715 |
| Loss on leaf tobacco | 4,233,064 |
| Total | $76,081,631 |
| Deduct gain on living animals | 2,505,651 |
| Total loss by decline | $73,575,980 |

What is Expected of the Legislature.

Charlotte Observer.

During the brief time allotted to them for the regular work of the session, the members of the Legislature will find many important subjects brought before them for action. Eight Sundays will intervene between to-day and the 8th day of March; at least eight days must be consumed between the organization, the senatorial election and the biennial fight over the public printing; so that there will be left but forty-four days in which to perfect all the local and general legislation which the people may require, individuals seek, or the members themselves demand. The members must see, even at the threshold of the session, that it will be necessary for them to go at their work with a will and to lose as little time as possible. They will be asked to extend the time of many sheriffs for settlement with the State treasurer; they will be asked to enact measures to prevent the felling of trees in certain streams; to pass bills prohibiting the sale of spirits within certain distances of certain churches, and much more to the same purpose, of purely local legislation. In regard to the first proposition above mentioned, it would be well enough for the Legislature to lay down at the start the general rule of refusing to grant an extension to any sheriff; as to the other measures it is suggested that all of this class of work belongs in the committee rooms; the committees should be instructed to make omnibus bills of all those measures of a similar character which they approve, and report against the remainder as a whole. This would effect a great economy of time, and much time will be needed for a full and free discussion of such important measures as the protection of sheep husbandry by the levying of a tax upon dogs; a stock or fence law; the compromise, commutation and settlement of the State debt; the school law and measures to make it more effective; the Moffett liquor register; the salaries of public officials; our charitable institutions and works of internal improvement, not to speak of the revenue bill and a host of other measures which will come up for consideration and upon which action will be in peratively demanded.

Much is expected of this General Assembly. It is, too, composed of some business and in matters of legislation it is above the average of our legislative bodies, and while it may not meet the public expectations, ((no Legislature or Congress ever did, for the reason that the public always expects too much) it will, we venture to hope, perfect much advantageous legislation and leave a good name behind it.

Unheard of Bargains!

AT THE INDEFATIGABLE ENDEAVORS TO PLEASE THE PUBLIC. SO HERE GOES.

Ye muses nine, inspire my pen,
To sing of Fayetteville streeet, No 10,
who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all,
Of other houses youhear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk,
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades,
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adornyour forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids your all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too.
And not forget

THURSDAY, ..... JANUARY, 9, 1879.

ORGAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

The News Building, No. 6. Martin Street

"A North Carolinian--Intus Et In Cute."

Richmond (Va.,) Sun.

We trust the Legislature of North Carolina will send ex-Governor Vance to the United States Senate. He is the idol of the staunch Democracy of the old North State, and hated and feared by the Radicals and renegades. Once before he was sent to the Senate, and the Radicals fearing his bold, fearless tongue, dreading his fiery eloquence and sharp invective, refused to let him take his seat, and North Carolina had to choose another. His so-called Confederate sentiments and proclivities then barred his way. The time for those things has passed, and true-hearted Southerners, who are not afraid to speak their sentiments, and to tell the Radicals their minds, now go to Congress. Men like Vance, Ransom, Gordon and Hunton and the Southern representatives, no longer sit listening in meek silence to the abusive assaults of such cattle as Blaine and Conkling. Zebulon B. Vance is a citizen and statesman of whom North Carolina may well be proud. In the dark days that followed the war, when many prominent North Carolinians, intimidated by Federal bayonets, were for pursuing a timid, time serving policy; while many went off after the flesh-pots of Egypt and gods, and for the sake of the loaves and fishes deserted their people when they should have led them out of the wilderness, Vance was as true as steel. Neither riches nor place could tempt him, nor threats nor imprisonment induce him to bend the knee to arbitrary power or lend himself to injustice or oppression. The spirit of the men who framed the Mecklenburg Declaration, who marched to King's Mountain, blazed in his heart and found burning utterance in his merciless scathing denunciation of treachery and traitors. Proud of his State, proud of those splendid soldiers whose serried ranks the gallant Pender, Ransom, Martin, Kirkland, Baker, Lane and Cooke had so often led to victory, a North Carolinian, intus et in cute, Vance would have died at the stake rather than have said or intimated his glorious Confederate compatriots were in the wrong or had anything to repent of.

Such is Zebulon B. Vance, a brilliant orator and successful politician, and to-day the foremost public man in the great State of North Carolina. She may well be proud of her gifted son—

"Though young in years yet in experience old;
His head unmellowed yet his judgement ripe."

Turner in the Caucus.

That was a shock that thrilled through every democratic heart in the city outside of the House of Representatives when it was learned that Josiah Turner had been allowed to take his seat in the caucus with the full right of participation in its councils, and exercising it with the malignant and indecent venom with which he is always surcharged. It had been conceived as a matter of course that his rebellion against his party, his defiance of the nominating convention of Orange and his endorsement by the Republican party, both for the Legislature and for Congress, his opposition to the congressional nominee of the Democratic party, and his denunciation of every principle, practice and individual that the Democratic party holds dear, would have sufficiently defined his status, and if self respect had not impelled him to the act itself, that the caucus would have enforced its own sense of self respect and summarily ejected him.

What has the caucus done? It has admitted Turner on equal terms, and permitted him to define what are the bounds of party control. It has permitted him to retain his place within the fold, and to declare that hereafter no amount of insubordination, no amount of factions opposition, no amount of avowed hostility to men and measures, no disregard of the fundamental principles of party organization, disqualifies an ambitious man from retaining his place provided he is bold enough to assert his position and define for himself what is Democracy.

It is a fatal blow aimed at the very vital principles of party permanence. It is a rebuke to those men who, believing in the creed of strict organization, have contended stoutly for its existence. It is a reproach to them that they have arrogated to themselves more tenderness of political conscience and more purity of political principle than others; it is a concession to the most fatal forms of insubordination, and it is a permission to all those who have rebelled togo on in their rebellion, for their party has no rebuke nor punishment for them.

The House has had a foretaste of what is before it. The key-note of Turner's system is sounded; and unless a halt is at once commanded, the business of legislation is at the mercy of one who comes here with the single purpose of glutting personal revenges and who glories in the power he once exercised in terrorising legislation to his will. Will this be permitted? Again, we ask, is a surrender to be made to the domineering, the vindictive the rebellious man who has stopped at no sacrifice of principles to gain his ends, and holds his seat to-day by the boldest defiance of those practices by which parties alone can attain their ends?

The Revival of Trade.

The marked decline in the price of food, coal, clothing and other commodities which has taken place during the past eighteen months, viewed in connection with the restoration of the currency of the country to a specie basis, can hardly fail to stimulate the investment of the surplus capital of the country in material enterprises. When it is thoroughly appreciated that prices have touched their lowest point, capitalists will see little reason for keeping their money locked up. The risk of an investment is, in most cases, due to a possible decline in the product of the investment or to a decrease in the demand for it which usually amounts to the same thing. Take real estate as an illustration: the only danger to the capitalist who makes builder's loan, is that the value of the structure or structures may be so lessened as to wipe out the margin between the loan and the cost of the work. If there be practically no doubt that the lowest possible price has been touched the capitalist takes practically no risk in advancing, say, three-quarters of the money needed to carry the projected work to completion. This principle is equally applicable to merchandise. The wholesale merchant is in little danger of not receiving payment from his retail debtor, if the articles sold to the retailer are sure not to shrink in value before he disposes of them. That hard pan has been reached hardly admits of a doubt.

Mr. Speaker Moring.

John M. Moring, Esq., of Chatham, was yesterday elected Speaker of the House, having previously received the caucus nomination. The contest was between Mr. Moring, Mr. Cook, of Franklin, Mr. Richardson, of Columbus, and Mr. Edmund Jones, of Caldwell. On the seventh ballot Mr. Moring was elected by a vote of 38 to 33 for Mr. Cook. John M. Moring has just reached the prime of manhood. He was born in Chatham county in 1841. He left the University in his junior year to enter the Confederate army. He served gallantly as private and Sergeant Major of Co. G, 7th N. C. S. Troops, surrendering with Johnson's army at Greensboro. He was admitted to the bar in 1868, and has practiced law in the various courts of the State with great success. In 1872, he was elected to the House of Representatives and has been re-elected continuously since that time.

Mr. Moring was a prominent candidate for the Speakership of the last House. He was chairman of the committee on Engrossed bills, and the committee on Privileges and Elections, and at the same time served with conspicuous ability as a member of the Judiciary committee, the committee on Constitutional Reform and the committee on the State Debt. He was elected Speaker pro-tem at the same session in the absence of Speaker Price. Mr. Moring has the ability, tact, readiness, industry, firmness and experience to make a good Speaker. That he will come up to the full expectation of his friends we doubt not. The gavel is in good hands, we believe.

Will Resumption be Permanent?

The accompanying facts and figures are presented to demonstrate that resumption will be permanent:

In 1857 the banks suspended on the 14th day of October, and resumed a day or two before the 1st of January, 1858. The following table shows the changes during the 11 weeks of suspension and for several months after resumption.

The whole list of investment security shows about the same improvement.

On resuming in May, 1848, after the panic and suspension of 1837, the same financial phenomenon is exhibited. From the day of resumption onward the banks gained specie and deposits, and expended in loans and circulation.

January, 1838, specie in all the banks of the United States.....$35,184,000
January, 1839, specie in all the banks of the United States,..... 45,131,000

There are many favorable features in our present financial situation that did not exist in either 1838 or 1958. Our paper money is all sound; the greenbacks are a legal tender; the national bank notes are all secured by United States bonds worth 10 to 15 per cent. more than the notes outstanding, and bank supervision and bank reports are salutary to a degree unknown under the old State bank system. It is not possible to get up a currency panic. In former pahics the banks were run by both depositors and note-holders; now only depositors have the least anxiety. The notes of a broken bank are as good as the notes of a sound bank.

Wickedness of Modern Congressmen.

Brooklyn Eagle.

Rev. Mr. Talmage yesterday pictured the moral and spiritual condition of the Congressmen of to-day in the expression that the morals of Washington are fifty per cent. better when Congress is away than when it is in session. Drinking establishments and hells of infamy he knew abounded there, but the presence of the average Congressman was like a pestilence to the Capital. As a matter of fact the vice of drunkenness has declined among Congressmen, and as a sequence other vices have decreased. Corruption does exist, but the time has long gone by when the representatives of the people kept body servants for the main purpose of carrying them home from debauches in the small hours of the morning, or waiting about the Capitol doors to guide them home after the sessions of Congress. As in the Congress so in the British Parliament, and so, undoubtedly, in all bodies of legislative representatives. Drunkenness is not so common as it was a quarter of a century ago, and men are more moral, if not less avaricious or selfish. The majority of men who go to either House of Congress, no matter what opinion may be entertained of their ability or fitness for the place they fill, are more temperate than their predecessors, and this statement is true of preceding Congresses as of this. Immediately succeeding the war, so many bad elements were in the ascendency that crime of all kinds was noticeably increased and Congressmen, as other men, disgraced politics and humanity many times by their excesses. But it was mainly in the direction of thieving that men betrayed their weak natures. Personal aggrandizement, rather than the gratification of the alcoholic appetite, marked the majority of those who disgraced Washington by their presence. In days gone by Congressmen went to Washington more for enjoyment than at the present time, and when there went into the social vortex that is always attractive. Now they are interested in carrying measures, investigating others and planning for re-elections. The country is grown so large and the eligible candidates for office so numerous that a Congressman finds it no easy matter to give any time to society, and busy men are rarely inclined to drink. If Washington is a worse place when Congress is in session, it is because of the presence in that city of the many hangers-on, lobbyists and bloodsuckers of all kinds. They do all in their power to corrupt Congressmen, and the Tabernacle pastor would do well to consider the temptations and the resistance thereto of the people's representatives, and shows us the other side of the picture.

Every Moment's Wonderful Work.

Every moment that we live the work of destruction never ceases among what is scientifically called "the tissues" of which our bodies are composed. Every moment, if we are in health, the work of repairing this destructive process goes on with equal pace. When the vital force is great, more vigor is given to the blood and muscular fibre than the ordinary wear and tear of existence uses up. When the vital force fails from any cause, there ensues a wasting away, which, if not arrested, ends in decay and death. Physicians all declare that when these symptoms of decline set in, the only certain remedy is Cod Liver Oil. But their patients, with almost equal unanimity, say that Cod Liver Oil is "so Nasty" they cannot take it. The only resource left is to obtain SCOTT'S EMULSION OF THE OIL with the HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA. This is altogether free from disagreeable teaste and order, and is an unequaled tonic, for the nerves and brain.

THE GENUINE
DR. C. McLANE'S
Celebrated American
WORM SPECIFIC OR VERMIFUGE.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.

THE countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye-lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy, not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist, DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure.

IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY in any form; it is an innocent preparation, not capable of doing the slightest injury to the most tender infant.

The genuine DR. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrapper.

—:o:—

DR. C. McLANE'S
LIVER PILLS
are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

AGUE AND FEVER.

No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking Quinine.

As a simple purgative they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Each box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

Each wrapper bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.

Insist upon having the genuine Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

The definitions are clear, and the analyses exhaustive. The work is practical, and abounds in slate exercises. The experience of a large number of the best teachers in this country is that, with Sanford in hand, pupils discover an unwonted enthusiasm in studying the science of numbers.

The Complete Series of Worcester's Dictionaries.

Worcester's School Dictionaries are based upon the quarto, which is preferred over all others by eminent scholars and men of letters. The series is admirably adapted to use in Schools, Academies, &c.

Liberal terms for introduction. We desire that Sanford and Worcester be examined by County Boards and principals of private schools. Correspondence solicited.

HOME REMEDY
A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY
CURE FOR SCROFULA.
FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS

TRADE MARK. TRADE MARK
(Registered.)
A BRIEF HISTORY:
The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:
"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing scrofula with Mrs Person's father. Mrs. Person lives in Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. The thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whiskey, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless those old Indians. We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

UNEQUALLED AS A BLOOD PURIFIER.
MRS. JOE PERSON:
The medicine I purchased of you last Winter proved of lasting benefit to my son, who was troubled with 27 running sores, some of them quite large, and of a scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your remedy, he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite sound and healthy. As a TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL. Hoping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain, Very respectfully,
T. J. STOKES.
Louisburg, N. C., May 22, '78.

AS A TONIC AND ALTERATIV
MOORESVILLE, IREDELL Co., N. C.
Being desirous of adding my testimonia to others, concerning the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy for Scrofula, I take pleasure in saying that as a tonic and alterative I do not think it has an equal. I have fairly tested it, and after trying Vegetine, Sarsaparilla, Vinegar Bitters, and various other remedies, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it far superior to any TONIC I have ever used. When I commenced using Mrs Person's Remedy I was very weak, complection sallow, and now I am WELL.
Respectfully your friend,
MRS. H. T. BROWN.

THREE CHILDREN IN THREE WEEKS.
CASTALIA, N. C.
MRS JOE PERSON:
Dear Madame—Your letter has been received, and on account of being absent from home for a week or two, have not had the opportunity to answer it. I certainly will take great pleasure in doing all that is within my power towards getting you patients for treatment of Scrofula. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for curing my three little children. They took medicine from my family physician for about two years, with scarcely any relief at all. I tried your remedy, and in less than three weeks they were all perfectly cured, and have never shown any sign of breaking out again. I feel very thankful to you. I can safely say that I believe your remedy to be a certain cure for Scrofula. If I can ever be of any service to you in any way, I want you to be sure and call on me. Yours truly,
WM. H. ARRINGTON.

"It will Cure if Fairly Tested."
It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After I returned from the Institute I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spiritedness died before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sore in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of the sore. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience, and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and I am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be cured, is my advice.
I am, respectfully,
JAMES A. MORRIS.
KITTRELLS, N. C.

My receipt for the cure of Scrofula has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for that disease and as a general Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction, while my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases, I believe it will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of the blood and probably for other diseases.

A CASE OF CANCER.
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12, 1878.
MRS. JOE PERSON:
Dear Madam—I have been using your Remedy for scrofula over five months as an experiment for cancer. The cancer is of long standing, the doctors have been treating it, more or less, for twelve years. It has taken off my upper lip and a good part of my nose. When I began to use your Remedy it was growing rapidly worse, but the medicine seemed to check it very soon, and it has not made much progress since, except about two months ago, the medicine gave out, and I was without several days. It then seemed to start anew, and grew worse very fast, until I had taken the medicine about a week, since then it has not changed much. I think if I could have had the medicine soon enough, it would have cured me.
For more than a year before using your medicine, I was troubled very much with a disease of the heart, an irregularity in its action. It would miss every third beat for hours, then at other times it would increase in its action, and run up to 200 beats per minute. Since using your medicine I am almost entirely relieved of this, rarely feel it, and then not enough to speak of it. I would recommend any one suffering with heart disease to try your medicine. As a Tonic and Alterative, I do not think it has any superior. I have been using all the most powerful alteratives known to the medical profession for the last 12 years and I know of none superior to this. I think your medicine is destined to be a great blessing to the afflicted. Let every one that needs a Tonic or an Alterative give it a trial, and I do not think they will be disappointed.
Very truly and respectfully,
JOHN BUIE, Fayetteville, N. C.

The Democratic caucus sat until midnight, and were entained by a two hours' harangue of "antagonistic" Joe Turner. He was finally expelled from the caucus, by a vote of 50 to 26. Mr. A. D. Brooks, of Alamance, was the choice for Enrolling Clerk.

Locked In.

The door of the House of Representatives became fastened last night and resisted all efforts to open it. Some of those in the hall got out of the windows by means of ladders, the lightning rod etc. Finally a heavy, short step ladder was used as a battering ram, and six able bodied citizens smashed the door in. Thus they escaped.

The Law Class.

The examination of the class of law students, which was held Monday and Tuesday by the Judges of the Supreme Court is spoken of as having been particularly exhaustive and thorough. The bearing of the class during the long and rigid examination was such as to stamp them as men of merit. The Chief Justice states that in future the examinations will be more exhaustive, so the law students in the State intending to apply will have to burn more of the midnight oil. It is perdicted that the class just graduated will prove an honor to their State in coming years.

Weak of Prayer.

The Union Prayer Meeting at the Person street Methodist Church last night was well attended and was very interesting. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Norman, who made a most interesting address in opening the meeting. The following gentlemen took part in the exercises, either making addresses or leading in prayer: Rev. Mr. Watkens, Prof. C. B. Fairchild, Mr. Wm. Doub; Rev. Dr. Pritchard, Rev. Mr. Black, A. M. McPheeters, Esq., and Rev. Mr. Reid. The meeting to-night will be held at the 1st Presbyterian church, and a cordial invitation is exteded to strangers and all others to attend. Subject: Prayer for nations; rulers and people; for peace and religious liberty in the earth.

County Commissioners.

The Board met yesterday at 10 o'clock. They did nothing but appoint road overseers, some seven being put in charge in various parts of the county.

They also granted relief from taxation in several cases, and audited some pauper accounts.

Some school business was transacted. They then began the revision of the jury list, which consumed much time.

The Board adjourned until this morning.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, }
COUNTY OF WAKE. }

Superior Court,
January Term.

State vs. Swepson and Littlefield.

John H. Collins, being duly sworn, maketh oath that the State cannot safely go to trial of this cause in Wake county, for the reason that the defendant Swepson is a man of great wealth and large influence in the county; that his power is so great that affiant is fearful that he can and will exercise an undue influence over any jury that can be brought into the box.

That affiant has information, upon which he relies, that for several days past one or more agents of said defendant have been active in attempting to create a sentiment adverse to the State in this cause.

A committee on Resolutions consisting of Messrs. S A Ashe, A Jones and S F Mordecai were appointed to report to a future meeting of the bar to be called by the chairman of this meeting.

Death of Col. D. M. Carter.

On Tuesday night this gentleman expired at Baltimore, to which place he had gone some weeks since. His health had been feeble for a time past, and he was not long since at the point of death here. But he rallied and was able to go North, though at the time he left it was thought he would never return alive. The deceased gentleman was about 49 years of age. He was born in this city and lived at what was then the City Hotel, which stood where the government building now is, on Fayetteville street. He lived here until some 14 years of age, when his father removed to Hyde county. Soon after this he went to the University, and after passing the course of studies graduated with distinction, in the year 1850. Returning to his home in Hyde, he engaged in the practice of law. About 1857 he removed to Washington, in Beaufort county, which he soon after represented in the lower house of the General Assembly. About this time he was married to Miss Belle Perry, of the same county. He was twice married, the last time to Mrs. Harriet A. Banbury, who survives him.

During the late war Col. Carter served with marked gallantry as a Captain in the 4th N. C. Infantry, Anderson's regiment. At the battle of Gaines' Mill, in 1862, he was so terribly wounded as to incapacitate him for further active service in the field. He was, upon his recovery, appointed judge of a military court, and served for two years in that capacity, as presiding officer of the army corps commanded by Gen. A. P. Hill.

At the conclusion of hostilities he again resumed the practice of the law, in Washington, and with great success. In 1872 he was a candidate for Congress from the First District, but was defeated by Mr. C. L. Cobb. A year later he came to this city, and continued the practice of law.

Col. Carter held some important positions. He was Chairman of the Board of Directors of the State Penitentiary. In this position he was a most efficient officer and inaugurated and promoted some special reforms and improvements in the management and conduct of that institution. He was also a Trustee of the State University.

The deceased gentleman was a vigorous thinker and doer, and a man of large aims and purposes. He was possessed of much property, and his charity, not ostentations, was well and liberally bestowed. The remains will arrive on the Raleigh & Gaston train this evening at 8½ o'clock. The funeral will be held on Friday. Due notice of the hour will be given in to-morrow's issue.

State Agricultural Society.

The Executive Committee of the North Carolina Agricultural Society held an important meeting at the Yarborough House Tuesday evening January 7th, present: Col Thos M Holt, President; A Creech, Dr Eugene Grissom, Dr Jas McKee, N S Harp, Gen R F Hoke, John Nichols, Dr Peter E Hines, Dr G W Blacknall, Capt Samuel A Ashe, Richard H Battle, Jr., H T Clawson, C B Fairchild, Wm K Davis, J C Pogue and C B Denson.

John Nichols, Esq., was appointed Secretary pro tem. The election of permanent Secretary being in order, R H Battle, Jr., Esq., nominated the present incumbent, Capt C B Denson. On motion of N S Harp, Esq., the vote was taken by acclamation, and Capt Denson was unanimously re-elected.

The president appointed A Creech, Esq., as chairman of the Executive Committee, under the new organization.

Resolved, That the nineteenth Annual Fair of the North Carolina Agricultural Society shall open on Monday October 15th 1879.

Resolved, That a select committee, consisting of the President, the Chairman of the Executive Committee, the Secretary, Gen R F Hoke, Capt S A Ashe, Dr Peter E Hines, Dr G W Blacknall and Richard H Battle, Jr., be appointed to prepare and report in detail a plan of operations for the holding of the 19th Annual Fair, to be presented at the next meeting of the Executive Committee.

Many suggestions were made for the benefit of the Society, and from the determination and spirit of the members, it was evident that no efforts will be spared this year, to organize and successfully direct the best Fair Raleigh has ever seen.

Col. Holt has appointed a number of promineng gentlemen and representative North Carolinians, who have cheerfully accepted positions in the Executive Committee, to lend their valuable aid to this important work.

In Aid of a Noble Charity.

It is understood that on Monday evening next the Rt. Rev. Thos. Atkinson, Bishop of North Carolina, will deliver a lecture at Tucker Hall, for the benefit of St. John's Guild Hospital. It is hoped that this may be in all respects an actuality, since the Bishop's rare powers of oratory and depth of learning, make him at once the most entertaining and instructive of speakers. The noble charity in whose aid he will discourse, merits the hearty sympathy and support of every person in this city. It gives to the sick a home where they may find healing and care, without money and without price. At the earliest possible moment a fuller account of the lecture and its subject will appear, and the attention of the people will be called to the need of aid for the Hospital. A description of this home for the afflicted appeared not long since in these columns.

The Senate and House have agreed and resolved to buy or have their measures for shirts at Levy's champion improved yoke shirt factory opposite the post office, as they are the best fitting, best made and a home enterprise, which should be encouraged, you will also find the best assortment of gentlemen's fine furnishing goods in the city.

Remember "Levy studies to please."

The Seven Spring Iron and Alum Mass for Sick and Nervous Headaches.

We will make any person a present of a nice $10 00 Bible, who suffer with sick or nervous headache, if they will use the "Seven Springs Mass" according to our directions, and then conscientiously say that it will not relieve it. This is a bona fide offer, and we mean what we say. We will not require any unreasonable conditions.

Address, LANDRUM & LITCHFIED,
Abingdon, Va.

P. S.—Headache is the least complaint for which this remedy, the "Iron and Alum Mass" is efficient.

For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, N. C.

Marriage Bells.

A gentleman living about 40 miles from our city was commissioned, a few days since, by his neighbors, to select suitable presents for a wedding about to take place. Of course he went to "LAW'S SILVER AND CHINA HOUSE," and from their splendid stock of fine SILVER WARE, purchased a large number of articles, which, together, made a rich outfit for the young couple.

FOR UPWARDS OF THIRTY YEARS MRS WINSLOW'S Soothing Syrup has been used for children. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, cures dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. An old and well-tried remedy. 25 cents a bottle.

Speer's Wine for Parties.

This Wine is decidedly the nicest we have ever seen or tasted. It is produced from the Oporto grape raised in this country, and possesses the very highest medicinal virtues and certainly, as an article of coverage, it is not, in our judgment, to be surpassed in color, taste, or any of the qualities which constitute a handsome and agreeable wine. It has become the choice wine for evening parties among the 5th Avenue families of New York. Salesroom 31 Warren stre t, N. Y., Williams & Haywood agents, Raleigh, N. C.

Not Medicine but Food.

The fall and early winter season is the harvest time of hacking coughs and debilitating forms of Catarrh, just as the later spring is the seed time of malarial fevers. To know a certain cure of the one, and a preventive of the other, is to have within our reach the most inestimable blessing of the period. We do not know of them, for these really marvelous properties are combined in Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda.

There is no form of physical waste and prostrated vitality, that a bountiful use of the Emulsion will not change, to glowing health and full life and vigor, and there is not a disagreeable medicine, but the most delightful kind of food.

I had Diphtheria in its worst form, could find no relief until I used Glen's Liniment Iodide Ammonia. It has cured me; I cheerfully give my testimony.

Kidney Difficulties.

Speer's Port Grape Wine is one of the best diuretics known, it gently acts on the kidneys infusing in them new vigor and urges them to throw from the system all the worn out particles which if suffered to remain would poison the blood and create disease. Every disease to a certain extent demands a diuretic, every part of the system must be in working order to maintain health, and the kidneys especially are the main avenue for the escape of the poisons of the system. Physicians have, after strict trial and due examination, found Speer's Port Grape Wine to answer the purpose admirably, and recommend it in cases where a diuret is needed. This wine is raised in New Jersey, and sold by druggist generally. It is becoming the principal wine for Communion purposes, and in great demand for evening entertainments by the most fashionable families on 5th and Lexington Avenues, New York. Salesroom 34 Warren Street, N. Y. Williams & Haywood.
